Bayside, Long Island, Sept. 12.—The final series regatta of the summer season was sailed by the Corinthians of the Bayside Yacht Club yesterday, and

By HERBERT.

John E. Madden's Paris and Charter Maid ran one, two in the Champagne Stakes at Belmont Park yesterday, but a costly mistake by Jimmy Butwelly robbed Schuyler L. Parsons's Sharp-theoter of second money.

In spite of being warned three or four times that the timish line had been moved down in front of the clubhouse moved down in front of the clubhouse is insure a full seven furlongs down the straight course, the boy eased up his mount after passing the regular finish, and before he could get him going again for the last fifty yards Charter Maid closing strongly, snatched the slate. Butwell frankly admitted his mistake, but this made poor amends. It was an exciting, stirring race, and Faris, after lighting off Runes and Sugraphooter, drew out right at the end, to win in impressive fashion and is fast time.

The search was made in the butterfly division. The winner of to-day's contest was the Diana. Next Saturday the club will hold its annual fall fight.

First Victors for Paris.

Paris was graduated from the maiden class in winning, but his opportunities have been few and his second to Polish 181 Monday stamped him as a younggree of quality.

He more than confirmed his class resterday, for after sharing the burden of pasemaking and responding to the whip a quarter of a mile from home, he drew out in the closing strides, proving his stamina as he did his speed.

Sharpshooter also tan a sterling race, as did Charter Maid. The former was making his third appearance in a week, and had won his two previous races. He did not begin to show his worth until coming back from Saratoga, but his performance yesterday stamps him a colt above the ordinary and one likely to develon into a good three-year-old.

The Champagne Stakes, first run in 1867 at old Jerome Park, has ever been the develon into a good three-year-old.
The Champagne Stakes, first run in a most coveted fixture. Almost without exception the winner has trained sut exception the winner has trained on and made his mark in other years, and Paris looks like the kind of horse which would be no exception to the rule, even though he is no world beater.

Of almost equal interest with the Champagne Stakes was the victory of Roamer in the Municipal Handicap, at me mile and a quarter. This brilliant three-year-old picked up 122 pounds, conceded big weight to his three opposeds and setting his own pace, ran

Bayside, Long Island, Sept. 12.-The SHADOW AGAIN WINS FROM KNOCKABOUTS

Skylark was awarded first place in the Atlantic Club Men Utilize One of Days Set Apart for America's Cup Race.

> Members of the Atlantic Yacht Club had a laugh at the expense of the other yachtsmen of the Lower Bay yesterday. At the beginning of the season no one cared to arrange a race for Saturday, September 12, as it was one of the days set aside for an America's Cup contest. However, the war put an end to the important chasic, and there was nothing else for the Lower Bay yachtsmen to do but to sail in the Atlantic regatts.
> There was a good whole-sail breeze blowing from the southwest when the regatta committee, made up of Carlos de Zafra, chairman; Frank P. Currier and Samuel L. Finlay, set the course signals for the different craft. The larger craft were sent over a course that took them from the starting line off Sea Gate to a mark off Bensonhurst. They then crossed the channel to Can other yachtsmen of the Lower Bay yes-off Sea Gate to a mark off Bensonhurst. They then crossed the channel to Can Buoy No. 13, then to Nun Buoy No. 12 and then back to the starting line.

Only two of the Q class were at the starting line. After the preparatory signal had been sounded the Virginia continually interfered with the right of way of the Arvia, and was disqualified by the committee. However, no announcement was made of the disqualification, and the Virginia sailed the race and was the first boat home. and was the first boat home.

Not one of the handicap boats started. In the S class the winner was the M. and F. II, the property of Camp and M. and F. II, the property of Camp and Marchant. Skylark was the winner among the knocksbouts, and once more the Shadow led in the Star division. As the boats were on the second round the relief ship Red Cross, on its way to sea, passed through the racing squadron. The race yesterday was the final contest of the summer on Gravesend Bay.

WOMEN TO FIGHT FOR GOLF TITLE

MISS HOLLINS ONE OF THE FAVORITES

Nassau Country Club Links Alive with Contestants Learning Tricks of the Course.

The twentieth annual woman's cham pionship todrnament under the direction of the United States Golf Associa-tion will be played over the links of the Nassau Country Club at Glen Cove, beginning to-morrow. It will be the third and last of the national competitions

Long since all thoughts of foreign representation were abandoned, and it therefore became a foregone conclusion that Miss Glayds Ravenscroft, of England, who won last fall at Wilmington, would not defend her title. Some critics expect Miss Marion Hol-

Some critics expect Miss Marion Hellins to win the championship. She was the runner-up last tall and likes the Nassau course, having won the 1913 metropolitan title over those links. But Miss Hollins made none too flattering a showing in the metropolitan championship at Easex County this year and in the tri-city matches for the Griscom Cup at Greenwich.

Miss Hollins, however, has been practicing hard of late. She played a round or two over the links of the Garden City Golf Club last week and it was seen that she got away a long straight ball, while her iron work appeared better than usual.

ball, while her fron work appeared better than usual.

There are many golfers in this district who admire the ability of Miss Lillian B. Hyde, who won the metropolitan title again this year and once was runner-up for the national championship, and count on her making a good fight.

While Miss Hollins and Miss Hyde are the hope of the metropolitan district, they will not lack for opposition, as among those entered are Miss Margaret Curtis and Miss Harriett Curtis, former champions; Miss Fanny Osgood, Mrs. R. H. Barlow, the Philadelphisstar; Mrs. E. W. Daley, Southern champion in 1913 and now of Boston, and Miss Georgiann Bishop, of Bridgeport, always a dangerous competitor.

The course is in fine condition and was alive yesterday with contestants getting familiar with the hazards and turf.

The links measure 6,018 yards and
